

Appendix A (continued)- Rahman et al

Appendix A The expression levels of the identified proteins compared to those of controls. Spot intensities were measured using a densitometer (Bio-Rad) and compared to those of controls. The average values of relative alteration levels of three replicate samples are shown in histograms. Different letters above the bars indicate statistically significant differences ($P \leq 0.05$).