

Changes in surface positive and negative charges with medium pH values for the biochars derived from different pristine and steam-exploded (SE) crop straws.